Galleria Umberto I

★★★★★

Galleria Umberto I is the second gallery in Naples and the busiest one. Built during the urban renewal following a cholera epidemic and the Legge Speciale of 1885, the shopping mall is a majestic structure capped with a grand dome. Designed by architect Emanuele Rocco, it was then modified by Ernest Di Mauro and Antonio Curri. In 1890, the Salone Margherita (destined to become the famous singing café) and the Galleria were inaugurated. The architecture joins the new Renaissance facade with beautiful glasses and iron roofing.

AIRPORT

Munich Airport

★★★★☆

"Munich Airport is Germany's second largest airport and ranks eighth among European passenger airports. It is located 28 kilometers (18 miles) northeast of Munich. For passengers, there are six airline-operated lounges to rest including the Atlantik Lounge, Lufthansa, Air France, British Airways and Delta Crown Room Club. There are several bars, restaurants, snack bars and coffee bars. You will also find facilities for disabled passengers. The airport is also well-stocked with shops where you can pick up anything from cigars, to leather bags, watches and jewelry."
